

HEAD TO HEAD

We are looking for talented recruiters who want to succeed in a company that really cares.

Why join us?

At Head Resourcing we believe that we are the sum of our parts – across our permanent and contract divisions, as well as our supporting functions, we are one team who work together to provide the best recruitment services to our clients, in an open and honest environment.

What we can offer you.

In a nutshell, we hope to offer you a career in recruitment where you have the opportunity to thrive, in a job that you love.

Our Head office is in Edinburgh, and has been operating since 2001. Our Leeds city centre office opened in January 2014, and we are driven to grow our team, increasing our capability, to become the best digital, IT and business change recruitment consultancy in the UK.

Our culture

If you've worked in recruitment for any length of time, you'll be familiar with KPIs. We know that we can do a great job without ticking arbitrary boxes – we treat our staff as adults and put trust in our teams to get the job done, while doing the right thing. We take our work seriously, but we believe we can have fun while doing it too!

Our culture is underpinned by our values – we are open and honest, we treat people with respect, we do things differently, we provide a great place to work, and most importantly of all, we care.

We are committed to developing our people so that we can help you be the best you can be – of course we want our people to be great at their jobs, but we also want to make sure that we're helping them to work towards their long-term goals.

At Head Resourcing you can have a long-term career with room to grow and develop your role within the business.

“I think Head are great at selecting people that don't need to be micro-managed, and take ownership for their own performance with no additional pressure.”

Charlie Wood
Contracts Manager,
Edinburgh

“When I joined Head, I wasn't actively looking for another role, but actually meeting the team and listening to their approach, I realised they suited me really well.

There's a real 'one team' culture and being treated as adults with the freedom to work with no harsh KPIs meant I knew I would enjoy coming to work.”

Lucy Burnley
Senior Consultant,
Leeds

We want people with the right attitude and aptitude to join our team – those who are committed to delivering for our clients, as well as having the determination and ambition to develop their long-term careers.

If you're interested in having a confidential, informal chat, please call Managing Director Huw Martin on 07793 411 060 or drop him an email on hmartin@headresourcing.com

We look forward to hearing from you.
